FOREWORD

The Calendar of Expiring Agreements is a compilation of major collective agreements in British Columbia which are scheduled to expire in the coming year. The publication includes those expiring agreements which cover 25 or more employees.

The total number of agreements and employees covered by expiries listed in the Calendar likely understates to some extent the bargaining activity to be expected during 1992. First, it is not possible to anticipate bargaining which will arise from first-contract negotiations where a trade union has been newly certified by the Industrial Relations Council. Second, at the time data for the Calendar was being assembled in November 1991, a number of collective agreements were in the process of being re-negotiated. Some of these renewed agreements will likely expire in 1992 but at the time of the publication it was not known which of them will be up for negotiation again in the coming year. A revised list of upcoming expiries is published each month in Collective Bargaining Information Monthly which is available from Crown Publications in Victoria.

The information contained in the Calendar was compiled by members of the Policy and Legislation Branch. Our thanks are extended to employers and unions who cooperated in providing expiry information to the Branch.

INTRODUCTION

A total of 452 major collective agreements covering 25 or more employees will expire in British Columbia during the 1992 calendar year. These expiries will cover 131,179 employees within the province or one-quarter of the unionized work force. While the numbers of collective agreement expiries is down only slightly from 1991, the numbers of workers covered by these expiries are down significantly from the 1991 totals (468 agreements covering 255,313 employees).

Important negotiations will be occurring throughout the year, although the months of March and June will be of particular note with 111 and 106 major contract expiries, respectively. March and June expiries cover 59,594 employees or 45% of the years total. For more information see Table 2 and the accompanying graphs.

In terms of industry, important negotiations will be occurring across all sectors of the economy. Within the private sector, 132 major agreements covering a total of 35,723 employees will expire in manufacturing over the 1992 calendar year. With manufacturing, major bargaining will occur in the fishing industry (price and cannery) and in metal manufacturing (Metal Industries Association and the Cominco agreement with the Steelworkers). Negotiating again this year will be the Pulp Bureau with CPU and PPWC, following their 10 month contract extension during 1991. At the end of the year the BC Maritime Employers - Longshore agreement will expire.

The public sector will again be very busy during 1992. The education sector will see the contract expiry of most school districts - teacher agreements in June. A total of 40,735 workers in the education sector will have their contracts re-negotiated. Also in the public sector, bargaining will occur for a number of provincial crown corporations - BC Rail, BC Ferries, Emergency Health Services, BC Transit, and the Workers Compensation Board. The reader should note that at the time the publication went to print, major health care and provincial government negotiations from 1991 had not been completed and might also carry forward into 1992.

Information within the 1992 Calendar of Expiring Collective Agreements is set up in a similar fashion to previous years. Tables 1 and 2 provide summary information. Table 3 provides a listing of all major expiries by month, while Table 4 provides the same information along an industrial breakdown.

The following is a listing of the 50 major expiries for 1992 which cover 500 or more employees. This listing is ordered by the calendar year.
